

CALL FOR MENTORS

NAR SPIRE PROGRAM

This mentorship opportunity will help individuals learn the fundamentals of the real estate industry, foster education, empower serious consideration of real estate as a career path, and encourage and promote the development of generational wealth through property ownership.

Program activities are done on a volunteer basis and are unpaid. Mentors and mentees will need to supply references/recommendations and go through a formal evaluation.

After the matching process is complete, mentors and mentees will be notified of their match. The Program Coordinator will provide each participant with contact details for their match. Once the introductions have been made by the coordinator, it is the mentor's and mentee's responsibility to continue communication with the mentee to initiate the mentoring process.

Benefits of being a mentor:

- Gain personal satisfaction from enriching the mentees' experience through your experience
- Help develop the mentees' future role in the real estate industry by personally and professionally supporting their growth
- Exposure to new and different thinking styles, knowledge and perspectives
- Networking opportunities with fellow mentors

Participation Requirements:

- Each party will work together to discuss and develop expectations, set objectives and complete a formal mentoring agreement
- Dedicate 4-8 hours a month and attend two live educational sessions.
- Agree upon a schedule to interact at least twice a month or whenever the mentee needs to talk to the mentor. The scheduled communication time should be included in the mentoring agreement.
- Provide the Program Coordinator a copy of a signed mentoring agreement above to mentorship@nar.realtor
